FOOD SITUATION GRAVE MATTER

ENTERING UPON WAR WITHOUT RESERVE FOOD TO SUPPLY OWN SOLDIERS

(By Associated Press.) ST. LOUIS, April 9.—Henry J. Walters, president of the Kansas state agricultural college, told the conference called by Secretary Houston to consider the food situation: "We are entering one of the greatest of wars without any reserve food, and the visible supply will be consumed before another harvest. Should we have an unfavorable season the United States will face the greatest food shortage since the Civil War. The problem of feeding 2,000,000 soldiers soon will confront us. We must feed our own people at home and also assist in supplying the allies." He urges increases in gardening and the rapid extension of community canning clubs.

FIVE MEN DROWNED ON UPPER MISSOURI

FLOOD WATERS AT BISMARCK EXACT TOLL FROM A CAP. SIZED BOAT

(By Associated Press.) BISMARCK, N. D., April 8.—Five men were drowned and another is believed to be dying as the result of the capsizing of a boat in the flood waters of the Missouri river here today.

The dead: Ed Massey, Manon, N. D., Harry Barwind, Bismarck, J. A. Vale, Minneapolis, A. Von Hagen, Minneapolis, Ned Pretzke, Bismarck. H. H. Lang, of Banden, was rescued, but is in a serious condition and doctors despaired of his life. Because the high waters of the Missouri had suspended railroad traffic, Lang and Massey were taking the others in a sail boat from Mandan to Bismarck. The river was still rising steadily today. It is expected that the 22-foot stage will be reached before there is a sign of subsidence.

A portion of Mandan north of the railroad tracks is under water.

BIG ROASTER FOR WHITE CAPS MILL

GREAT CROWDS LINE MAIN STREET AS BIG PIECE OF MACHINERY GOES TO CAMP

The departure of the 13-ton roaster for the White Caps company at Manhattan drew out large crowds this morning along Main streets as the immense wagon of the Verdi Lumber Co. loomed up the street behind 12 horses. The outfit will be supplemented by another string of 10 animals at Spanish Springs as it will require the combined strength of 22 animals to pull the load over the summit. The Wedge mechanical roaster weighing 25,670 pounds, came from South Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, arriving some time ago, but delivery was delayed awaiting for improvement of the Manhattan road. The truck was one of the immense wagons belonging to the Verdi Lumber company used in the early days of the camp in transporting heavy timbers and is the largest wagon in Nye county. As the wagon and its load proceeded up Main street Wiley Kelly, took a picture for the movies. The Manhattan Trading and Transfer company has the contract for hauling.

EASTER SERVICES WELL ATTENDED

Easter services were well attended both morning and evening and the display of Easter costumes was only surpassed in interest by the numbers attending the various exercises. The ladies turned out with their latest creations from milliner and modiste and floral displays were richer than ever before at this season. The weather during the early morning hours was delightful, but towards noon the wind came up bringing clouds of dust that drove promenaders indoors for the remainder of the day. The afternoon was about as disagreeable as a couple of strange bulldogs in a kennel, but the Easter spirit softened the asperities of climate and those who failed to go motoring spent the day receiving and entertaining.

At St. Patrick's church the altars were beautifully decorated with masses of flowers in which the Easter and calla lilies predominated, mingled with roses, lilacs and arbutus. The first mass was accompanied by the Junior choir, which, under direction of Father Diss, showed wonderful improvement interpreting the music, including the "Regina Coeli," by A. Werner. The members of the choir are George Money, Irene Farrell, Ethel Farrell, Rita McVeigh, Margaret Griffin, Kathleen Griffin, Anna Grant, Leona Bradshaw, Theresa Kennedy, Margaret Kennedy and Gladys Douglas, with Miss Loretta Walsh presiding at the organ. High mass was celebrated to the accompaniment of the senior choir consisting of the following: Sopranos, Marguerite Gibbons, Anna Malley, Kathleen Hafner and George Money; altos, Mrs. Charles Smith, Helene Dugan, Marie Crane and Blanche Robb; tenors, Zeph, Ethier, J. McGinn; basses, Messrs. Roach and Van Dusen. The mass was the solemn composition in F by L. Bordeese. At high mass Father Diss spoke on the necessity for every member of the Catholic church coming forward to help his country in the hour of need by offers of personal and material sacrifice.
